BLACK-BASS SHORE FISHING 1ST WORLD CUP GUADALCACÍN RESERVOIR

(SAN JOSÉ DEL VALLE - ARCOS de la FRONTERA - ALGAR – CÁDIZ – ANDALUCÍA - SPAIN)

PERIOD OF THE EVENT

From: Wednesday, November 16, 2011 (Arrival of the participating nations)
To: Sunday, November 20, 2011 (Departure of the participating nations)

COMPETITION SCENARIO

Guadalcacín reservoir (Cádiz).

Located between the villages of San José del Valle, Arcos de la Frontera and Algar, it has a surface of the watercourse of 3760 hectares and a maximum capacity of 800 hm³.

It is a real paradise for black bass fishing, having in its orography a great number of coves, plots, gravels, submerged plants and bays, so offering a lot of different fishing zones. Guadalcacín reservoir holds the Spanish black bass record (4 Kgs). Bass population in this reservoir is very large, and numerous catches of good sizes can be caught. It is very well considered by anglers, a fact proven by the last Spanish bass fishing from shore championship of September 2010, when a large amount of fishes of very good sizes were caught.

COMPETITION RULES

Article 1. DEFINITION

1. We define 'black bass sport fishing' as the one performed in continental waters from the shore, whose purpose is the black bass (Micropterus Salmoides) fishing, on the best sporting conditions, similar to all competitors.
2. For anything not specifically regulated in these rules, the official FIP Sed regulations concerning international competitions for black bass from boat will be applicable.

Article 2. COMPETITION DIVISION

This competition is performed individually. The category is absolute.

Article 3. SCENARIO

1. The fishing scenario will be a part of the Guadalcaacín Reservoir clearly delimited and indicated by the Organization in order to allow the competition to be performed according to the number of participants. Likewise, those areas inside the scenario with any kind of restriction will be marked by the Organization.
2. The location and area of the fishing scenario will be decided taking into account the terrain orography and the number of participants. The limits of the fishing area will be made public before the start of each leg.
3. Before the start of the competition delegates, captains and sportsmen will be informed about the scenario and its boundaries, restricted areas – if any -, situation of the main checkpoint and other control areas of support, emergency telephones and any other relevant information.

Article 4. DEVELOPMENT STANDARDS

1. The competition shall take place in six legs of four hours each. Starting and ending times of the legs will be shown in the program. On the brief break between legs of the same day, the organization will provide refreshment to the sportsmen.
2. Each participating nation may register a minimum of four and a maximum of eight anglers. Four of them will be registered in order to score for the classification by nations. The rest of them will compete only for the individual classification. Nevertheless, as far as awards and trophies are concerned, the national team consist of all the sportsmen.

3. Only casting techniques will be allowed. Fly-fishing with mouse-tail end is forbidden.
4. The designated fishing area may not be leaved.

Article 5. RULES OF BEHAVIOR

1. Angling shall take place always from the shore. Entering the water will not be allowed under any circumstance.
2. All displacements must be made on foot, so no boats or other means of locomotion by land are allowed; unless the organizing committee so decides in order to take the participants to the departure points.
3. Anglers must not make contact nor exchange points of view with other sportsmen or non-competition persons (apart from the team captain) neither at displacements nor at fishing action. Borrowing of baits or fishing materials is strictly forbidden.
4. In order to avoid disturbing other participants, the space previously occupied by other anglers must be respected, fixing for it a minimum of 35 meters –not measured by the shore but by the imaginary straight line that joins the two sportsmen -. Thus, the first angler to reach a certain point can claim as its own a zone with a radius of 35 meters.
5. When an angler leaves its fishing spot to deliver its catches to a checkpoint or control, he can keep his previous position by conveniently marking it with any personal item (rod, fishing equipment...) In this case, and in his absence, the rest of the sportsmen are due to respect the 35 meters limit. When a place is marked, and thus reserved, by an angler, he is not allowed to fish anywhere else on the scenario.
6. Caught fishes must not be moved around out of the water (dry), and should be maintained in a bowl full of water to be delivered to the checkpoint. In this sense, each angler has to spare no effort to ensure the preservation of them alive. To hold the catches, they can use the stringer, keep nets, suitable containers, and so on. More aggressive systems such as mooring ropes are not allowed.
7. Participants must not share containers to keep alive the catches. In the transport of the caught fishes, any kind of help cannot be asked or given between competitors.
8. The departure will be from the same central point of the scenario. In the first leg, a half of the participants from each nation will go fishing to one side and the other half to the other side. In the second leg, it will be the other way around. In the third leg, it will be of free choice, every participant will have the whole of the scenario available.

Article 6. CHECKPOINTS AND CONTROLS

1. The main checkpoint will be located in the place of departure and arrival of the participants. It will be the Jury's headquarters.
2. Support controls will consist of at least two persons. One of them will be from the organizing committee, a member of the Jury as far as possible. The other one, will be a representative of the participating countries.
3. Support controls will be assigned by zones, distributed to each of them by drawing lots. By performing its function, they will always be the three of them together, trying not to approach or disturb the sportsmen, and not talking to them, unless they have to make measurements or any other reason would arise the need of doing so.
4. The areas of action of each support control will be established in advance by the organizing committee, and will be known by all participants before the start of each leg. They will receive a map or sketch of the fishing scenario indicating the different established areas, in order to facilitate their situation.
5. Support controls will be terrestrial. To supervise the competition, boats can be rendered available by the organization, but they will not perform weighing operations, thus not approaching the shore, in order not to disturb neither the fish nor the participants.
6. Participants must finish each leg in the main checkpoint or in any of the support controls. However, if they go to one of the support controls, they must always go to the main checkpoint before the established time. Any participant who arrives after the established time to the control, or does not arrive at the main checkpoint, will be penalized with 500 grams per minute.

Article 7. CATCHES

1. For being considered valid, alive catches must belong to the Micropterus Salmoides species (black bass), and they must reach the minimum size of 30 cm. The measurement will be performed with the fish's mouth closed, from the prominence of the lower lip to the far end of the caudal fin.
2. Catches must be taken alive to the weighing, being kept in appropriate containers until that moment. Catches of the allowed size will be considered valid even if they are accidentally hooked outside the mouth, but the deliberate foul hooking of fish is prohibited.
3. The number of catches is limited to five in each leg.

4. All fish that are dead, wounded or in bad conditions for the angler's carelessness, or that do not fulfil the established measurement limit, shall be considered as part of the quota, and will involve the corresponding penalty, being its value discounted as if it were valid.
5. Right from the start of the leg, participants can take their catches to any of the checkpoints, being the Jury in charge of making up the quota at the end of the leg, with the catches of greater weight among all the ones taken to the controls. The angler must never take, at one time, a greater number of catches than the number established by the quota. Likewise, once achieved the quota, he should not take to the control any fish that clearly does not overcome the weight of the previously delivered.
6. If any of the catches taken to the support controls is doubtful or is a subject of disagreement with the sportsmen, this catch will be retained and preserved, to be the international judge the one to make the most appropriate decision at its discretion.
7. Controls, once measured and weighted the catches, and done the corresponding annotations, will immediately restore the fish into the water. Only doubtful catches will be retained, as indicated in the previous point, when direct intervention of the international judge is required. For these cases, the organization will ensure that controls are equipped with the necessary means to keep catches alive.
8. The weighing operations shall always be performed in the presence of the two members of the control and the angler itself. All of them must sign the agreement with that annotation, in the escrow as well as in the control documents. Failure to comply with this requirement will invalidate the bad registered catch.

Article 8. SPORTS EQUIPMENT

1. Rods. Will be of free use. In fishing action, each angler can only use one rod and reel. However, he can keep assembled as many rods as he wish, but always out of the water. He can not rely on external support to transport his equipment during the legs.
2. Reels. Will be of free use.
3. Fishing lines. Free use.
4. Underwater lines. Free use.
5. Baits. Only artificial lures may be authorized. The use of natural baits, dead or alive, is prohibited. Only the use of artificial scent, oils and essences (always artificial) is permitted applied to fishing lures. The use of any type of flour, groundbait, flavorings, etc, natural or artificial, to be thrown to the water in order to attract fish is forbidden.

6. Auxiliary material: Dip nets or landing nets are allowed, only used by the participant itself.

Article 9. CLASSIFICATIONS

1. INDIVIDUAL CLASSIFICATIONS OF EACH LEG

a) The classification shall be made taking the fish weight into consideration.

In the case of a tied weight in a leg, the anglers in question will totalise a number of penalties equalling the average placing they should have had (Example No. 1: two "couples" tying for the 4th place totalise $(4+5):2 = 4.5$ penalties each; Example No. 2: three competitors tying in the 6th placing, totalise $(6+7+8):3 = 7$ penalties each).

b) Anglers who have not caught any fish will receive a number of points equal to the average value of the 'zeros'. (Example: Twenty four sportsmen, twelve of whom have a 'zero': each of them will mark $(13+24):2=18.5$ penalties.

2. CLASSIFICATIONS BY NATIONS OF EACH LEG

a) Summing up of the placing obtained in each leg by the four anglers from each country who were registered in order to score for the classification by nations.

b) The national team with the lowest number of penalties will be classified first in the leg and so on.

c) If a tie on points occurs, the team classified first will be the one with the greatest total weight obtained by its four components. If the tie persists, the first team will be the one who has –among its four components- the one with the best individual weighing.

d) The classification for each of the six legs will be performed in the same way.

3. GENERAL INDIVIDUAL CLASSIFICATION

a) There shall be the sum of points of every angler in the six legs. This sum, ordered from smallest to largest, will give the final individual classification of the World Cup.

b) If a tie on points occurs between two or more anglers, then the angler with the highest aggregate weight over the six legs will be first. If there is still a tie, the classification will be made according to the heaviest catch of the anglers involved.

4. GENERAL CLASSIFICATION BY NATIONS

a) The sum of points obtained in each of the six legs for the four anglers registered to score in this classification (twenty-four addends, therefore) will determine the final ranking by nations. The Champion will be the one with the highest sum, and so on.
